

1. What is a prompt?
 - c. Any stimulus given before or during the performance of a target behavior to help cue that behavior.
2. What is a response prompt?
 - b. When another person assists the individual in engaging in the desired goal response in the presence of a discriminative stimulus.
3. Which of the following are response prompts?
 - c. Verbal, gestural, modeling.
4. A stimulus prompt is:
 - b. When an antecedent stimulus is changed, added, or removed in order to make a correct response more likely.