Here it is a cookbook with recipes that vary in size for use in community homes. This cookbook contains more than 400 recipes and includes the basics for establishing menus for homes ranging in size from 4 to 16 portions.

There is a complete informational section that provides helpful hints for the novice cook and more detailed information for the experienced cook. A nutritional analysis of each recipe, including diabetic exchanges is also part of the cookbook. The recipe format is easy to read and there are instructions for each recipe.

The cookbook is available at a cost of $19.00 each and includes shipping and handling.
